ITE Diversity Scholars Program

Apply today! The application deadline is March 15, 2020.

If you answered yes to these questions, check out the ITE Diversity Scholars Program, sponsored by the Institute of Transportation Engineers (ITE).

ITE is an international membership association of transportation professionals who work to improve mobility and safety for all transportation users and help build smart and livable communities.

The purpose of this program is to increase underrepresented populations participation in the transportation profession by supporting increased diversity at the undergraduate level.

This program is open to any U.S. high school student of African-American; Native American, Alaskan, and Hawaiian; or Hispanic/Latino heritage with an interest in a career in transportation and seeking to study transportation engineering, planning, or in a related-field at a school with an established ITE Student Chapter.

The four cornerstones to this program are:

- Financial support (a total of up to $20,000 in scholarship support: up to $4000 annually per student for up to 5 years of undergraduate enrollment)
- ITE Student Chapter engagement
- Mentoring
- Internship Opportunities

Eligibility requirements include (but are not limited to) the following:

- United States high school student of African-American; Native American, Alaskan, and Hawaiian; or Hispanic/Latino heritage
- Intended or declared major in transportation engineering, planning, or a related field,
- Full-time enrollment or intended enrollment at an accredited college or university with an ITE student chapter,
- Good academic standing
- Additional preferences both first generation college students and Pell Grant eligible students

For more information, including a full listing of eligibility requirements and how to apply, visit www.ite.org/diversityscholar. This scholarship is provided through the generosity of the ITE Legacy Fund.
